MURDER CHARGE FACES FOUR IN ADELPHI SLAYING

WOMEN, MEN OF THIS CITY ARE INVOLVED

Circleville Girl Is Being Sought In Portsmouth As Witness.

Four men were to be arranged in the court of a justice of the peace at Logan on Wednesday afternoon on charges of second degree murder in connection with the death of Earl Behrens, 45, Lancaster, whose body was found beneath a pile of leaves and brush near Brimstone creek in Hocking-co, three miles south of Adelphi, Monday morning.

The men to be arranged on the murder charges are Clayton Huston, of Brimstone creek; Elmer Danner and Albert Bircher, who reside at the Huston home, and William Stewart, Sams creek.

Six others will be held and another is being sought as a material witness, according to Sheriff William Lloyd. Four of these are from Circleville.

VISIT HUSTON HOME
The local quartet associated with the shooting are Lloyd Rigby, arrested Monday; Sherman Lovry, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Elsie Justice, arrested Monday night; and Annie Rutter, now being sought in Portsmouth where she went Monday.

Other material witnesses are Obid Walton, Louis Whitaker and Reuben Lindsey, all of Lancaster. Mrs. Whitaker was released from custody Tuesday.

According to Hocking-co authorities, the Circleville men and women arrived at the Huston home at 10 p. m. Sunday after Mrs. Justice had been called out of the Circleville city jail by Lovry following her arrest on a charge of using obscene language after an automobile in which she was riding wrecked the milk wagon of Chauncey Stanger in this city. When she appeared before Mayor B. T. Hedges at 10 a. m. Monday she was fined $10 and cost.

LOWRY TELLS OF SHOTS
Before he was taken to Logan Tuesday by deputy Sheriff L. H. Hammond, Lovry said that he and his companions stayed at the Huston home until about 1 15 a. m. Monday. When one of the men at the Huston reported that men had passed the cottage, Lovry said he decided to start for home and went out with Huston and Danner to put water in the radiator of his automobile. Another man, identified as Stewart, Lovry said, also left the house and went up the ravine back of the Huston house.

A short time later, Lovry asserts, he heard 20 to 25 shots fired and decided to leave at once. He said he called to Rigby and the two women and that they immediately departed for Circleville. The three Lancaster men are said to have been companions of Behrens on an expedition to hijack 30 gallons of liquor, supposed to be hidden in the ravine, and who fled when Behrens was shot. They summoned the Hocking-co authorities who went to the Huston home.

REVOLVERS FOUND
Deputy Sheriff Hammond said he found Mr. and Mrs. Huston in bed. Huston fully clad. Hearing a noise in the back bedroom he went there and found Danner and Bircher, apparently sound asleep. A search of the house uncovered two .38 calibre revolvers, all chambers of which had been recently fired, he said.

No cartridges were found, but a small daughter of Huston said "Papa put them in the pump for the officers." The well at the house was drained but no cartridges were found. Coroner J. P. Miller at his autopsy on the body of Behrens found that he had been killed by a .32 calibre bullet. Hocking-co officers declare that a bloodhound followed a trail from where Behrens' body was found to an outbuilding on the Huston property and then into the Huston house.

SAFETY IS SOUGHT

Representatives of the N. & W. railroad will meet with the city council Wednesday night to consider the installation of warning signals at the crossings in this city. Council may also give a hearing to the petition asking reconsideration of the site of the municipal hospital.

ANOTHER GIRL FAINT VICTIM

Lancaster Arouse Over Second Case of Collapse At Church.

LANCASTER, O., Feb. 20.—Alleged hypnotism and witchcraft evidenced at a church revival meeting here, and which supposedly caused two young girls to drop unconscious before the altar in the church, today had thrown this city into the throes of terror.

Rev. J. G. Laveck is pastor of the Christian Unity Church of Christ where the fainting of the girls occurred. He has been conducting a revival meeting for the past few weeks.

Ethel Frances, 17-year-old member of the congregation, dropped unconscious before the altar February 6, as she stood shouting praises. Though she has regained consciousness before the altar February 14.

Irelen Lane, 14, attended the meeting against her parents' wishes Sunday night. When Rev. Laveck exhorted the people to come forward and be converted, Helen walked up the aisle of the little edifice. As she stood extolling the "God above" to forgive her sins, she also dropped over in a faint, and had not recovered consciousness today. Her teeth are locked shut and only water can be fed to the girl.

That in itself was not enough to arouse the hypnotism and witchcraft suspicions. A girl said to be Herbert Older, a recent convert of the revival, has been mentioned in connection with the case. He was in the church when the girls fainted and tried to "turn them with the light" had dropped over.

FIRE HITS LONDON

TRIO OF FIVE ESCAPED MEN ARE CAUGHT

McDermott Back In Pen—
One of Convicts Nabbed
At Shadeville.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 20.—Pat McDermott, Mike Jacko and Joe Russo, three of the five convicts who sawed their way to liberty from the Ohio state penitentiary here early yesterday, were back behind the bars and in solitary confinement today following a brief, cold, hungry and haunted freedom. McDermott and Jacko were caught in a quarry near Columbus at 11.30 o'clock last night. Russo was captured about 3-20 o'clock this morning at Shadeville.

William Young of Marietta, and James Walton, Cleveland are the two convicts who are still at large. McDermott is serving a life sentence for the murder of Dor Mellett, publisher of the Canton, Ohio, News. Jacko is another "lifer."

NEARLY FROZEN

Deputy Sheriffs Charles Williams and John Crumley discovered the half-frozen fugitives—McDermott and Jacko—as they huddled about a small fire in the tower of the Casparis quarry.

The officers rushed the men, expecting stout resistance, but with the temperature near zero, the desperadoes were too nearly frozen to resist.

It was snow that earlier had covered up their tracks which caused the two to be captured. Deputies Williams and Crumley picked up their trail near the Jiggs baroque, Cambridge boulevard, and followed it more than two miles to the quarry.

Russo, when captured, was wearing a pair of overalls, which he and another of the escaped prisoners who was with him had stolen when they broke into the general store at Hartman farm, a small farming center, about four miles south of here.

SHOTS AT FUGITIVES

C. O. Evans, proprietor of the store, awoke and obtaining his revolver fired at the men as they left his place of business.

Fleeing before the shots, the two fled in different directions. Police were notified and a short time later Constable John Guy and several deputy sheriffs found Russo cowering behind a tree at Shadeville.

Apprehension of the men within such a short distance from Columbus, indicated that the men had no outside assistance after they made their break.

WORKS' CONTRACT SIGNED BY COUNTY

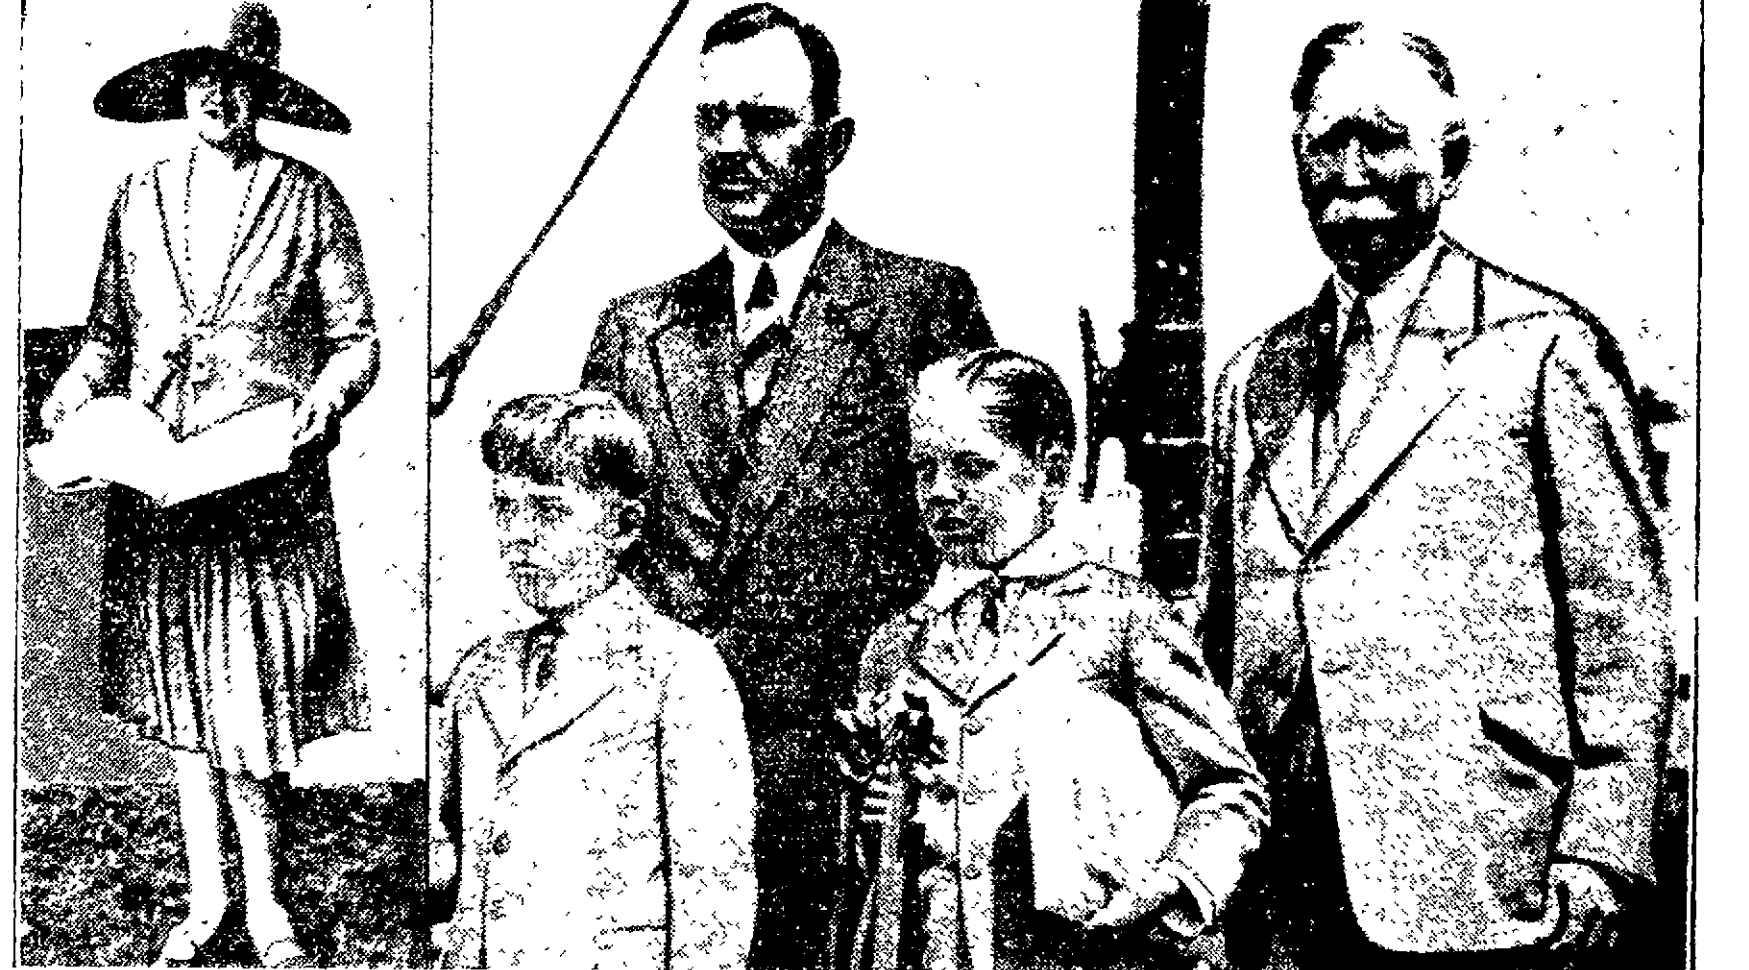

Prisoners sentenced from justice of the peace and mayors' courts in Pickaway-co face the possibility of working out their fines instead of "laying them out" in the comfort of the county jail.

County commissioners have signed a contract with the Cincinnati Arkwright for the boarding of prisoners from this county at the rate of $1 a day. The contract, the commissioners say, is designed to put a "kick" in justice handed out by the minor courts of the county. The contract is effective immediately.

NAB THIRTEEN IN DRY RAID

Federal Prohibition Officers
Swoop Down On Lancaster Tuesday.

LANCASTER, Feb. 20.—Federal dry officers swooped down on Lancaster yesterday and executed a well-planned drive on liquor law violator suspects that resulted in 13 arrests. Five proprietors of restaurants and poolrooms and eight other persons, all men, were rounded up. It was said to be the biggest dry drive ever executed in Fairfield-co.

The five proprietors arrested are George Chapman, Lafayette Mulloch, Rufus Chapuis, W. H. Dodson and Charles Bugh.

Two U. S. dry men were assisted in the round-up by Sheriff Gail Sessler and his deputies and the Lancaster police force.

Evidence which will be used in bringing charges against the 13 men was gathered by undercover men about two weeks ago.

The directors reluctantly accepted his resignation and appointed Mack Parrett Jr. to fill the unexpired term of secretary. Mr. Parrett is well known in Circleville and is well qualified to handle the duties of the position.

Notice For Veteran Shows Popularity Of Herald and Multitude of 'Millers'

Extensive Work of Local Red Cross Also Revealed By Appeal.

The local chapter of the American Red Cross believes in advertising. It is also converted to the opinion that there are nearly as many Millers as Smiths. This opinion is confirmed by the number of letters received by Miss Agnes Butch, the Home Service secretary, in response to a notice in The Circleville Herald for the address of Robert S. Miller, an ex-service man.

Replies were received from Cincinnati, Dayton, Springfield, Cleveland, Toledo, Ashland, Washington, C. H., Ashville, and other towns. The right Robert Miller was located at 116 Blackstone avenue, Washington, C. H., having recently moved there from Ashville.

One of the major services conducted by the American Red Cross is that which concerns the war disabled veteran. The strength of the Home Service lies in its interlocking system of chapter cooperation, through which 3000 chapters help each other. It was to fulfill this obligation that Pickaway-co chapter sought Mr. Miller, his evidence being considered necessary to establish the claim of a comrade now living in Urbana, Illinois. The executive secretary of Campagna County chapter, wrote the Home Service secretary to try and locate Miller and through the medium of the newspaper this was accomplished.

Chapters are daily finding veterans who have never filed claims of dependents who have not known of their rights resulting from the death of a man in service or thereafter. During the month of January, 54 cases came under the observation of the Home Service secretary. Forty-seven of these were World War cases, four were dependents of Civil War veterans and three cases were of men who were rejected after a short period of service.

Of the 47 cases one is now a local veteran, Nathan Parrott, of S. Court St., Circleville, having been granted a compensation. His case had been before the Veterans Bureau 10 years and had twice time after time been turned through the present efforts of the local chapter. Parrott was hospitalized and underwent an operation for a benign goitre. The operation did not bring the hoped for result and the case was again referred to the Veterans Bureau then to the District Board of Appeals—but the opinion was not entitled to a benefit. In sheer desperation the case was carried to the Central Board of Appeals, Chicago, Ill., with the result that all other decisions were reversed.

CASE GOES TO HIGH COURT

J. W. Halterman Asks Review
of Litigation Over Estate
of Son.

An echo of the Halterman murder case, in which Leo Halterman killed his half-brother Charles Halterman and sister-in-law, Caroline Halterman, in Fayette-co, Dec. 23, 1926, was heard in the Ohio supreme court Tuesday when James W. Halterman, father of Leo and Charles, filed a motion to have the supreme court review litigation over the estates of Charles and Caroline Halterman.

The case is based upon whether Charles or Caroline Halterman, his wife, died first. Both died intestate. James W. Halterman contends Charles survived Caroline and therefore her estate should be conveyed to the estate of Charles Halterman, of which U. G. Evans is administrator.

The Fayette County appellate court in December 1925, however, found that Charles Halterman died first and ordered Evans to turn over to Meta O. Will, administratrix of the estate of Caroline Halterman, Charles Halterman's estate.

DISCOVER NEW FASTING RULES

Village Resident Finds Water
and Chewing Gum Are Used.

WAPAKONETA, O., Feb. 20.—When is a fast not a fast? That is the question for which the village of New Hampshire, near here, is seeking an answer for today.

The problems came as the result of the admission of Fred Conrad, 27, that while he has not taken nourishment for 37 days, he has been chewing gums and drinking water.

Conrad went on a "fast" here recently, announcing that he would refuse food until his father joined the Methodist Episcopal church and the devil had been driven out of the community.

George Conrad, father of the alleged "faster" blamed the Rev. Ray Dotson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, for his son's religious fanaticism.

Two ministers, representatives of the superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church district, have observed Rev. Dotson of all blame in the case. The ministers were accompanied by Dr. H. C. Bennett, psychiatrist of Lima, O. Bennett told young Conrad that life could be sustained indefinitely by drinking water and chewing gum.

Conrad is reported to have told the psychiatrist that he intended to conclude his fast soon. This was taken as a sign that Conrad's religious fervor is on the wane, and that he will take food next Friday—the fortieth day of the fast.

SMALL DECREASE IN FOOD COST LISTED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The retail cost of food is coming down slowly. A decrease of slightly more than three-fourths of one per cent taking place in January as compared with December, the Department of Labor announced today. There was a decrease of about one-third of 1 per cent in January compared with January a year ago, while there has been an increase of 37 per cent since January 1912.

The flour was covered with oil, and there was a barrel of oil standing near the pipe center of the floor. The pipe that had been put into the well to pump through, had been drawn back high up on the derrick. Oil covered it as far up as one could see. Small bottles of oil stood on a shelf, which were to be used as specimens of the quality.

The oil in the barrel was about as thin as water, and when Mr. Friend put his finger into it, it came out covered with a light covering of the purest oil imaginable. It looked as if it had already been refined.

Evidently all had been discussed about the results of the drilling for the few men gathered around had nothing more to say. The well had been shot on Monday with 220 quarts of nitroglycerin at a depth of more than 2300 feet. Then 24 hours were allowed to pass for the oil to gather before it was pumped out. This was done and although the quality of the oil was the best, the authorities claim that there is not sufficient quantity to merit pumping each day. There is some possibility that another well will be driven in another location.

SMALL WELL IS OPENED IN PICKAWAY-CO

Best Quality Produced In State Discovered In New Field.

A new oil field has been discovered in Ohio and it is in the northern part of Pickaway-co where the highest grade crude oil ever produced in the state has been found.

The new field was uncovered when the well sunk on the L. C. Odaffer farm near Ashville by C. D. Friend and associates of Columbus proved to be a producer when it was opened Tuesday afternoon after having been "shot" Monday afternoon.

Although the early indications are that the well will be a small producer of approximately six barrels every 24 hours, it is pointed out that it is the equal in value of a 60 barrel well in Oklahoma or Texas.

HIGHEST GRADE OIL

The oil found is of the Pennsylvania grade, which is worth about $4.10 a barrel in comparison to the $3.50 to 80 cents per barrel value of the western grade. Laboratory tests reveal it is the highest grade oil ever found in Ohio.

Plans of Mr. Friend and his associates for the further development of the field, where they have 7000 acres of farm land under lease, are indefinite. The cost of placing the first well is estimated at $15,000. It is said that it would not pay to pump the well on the Odaffer farm until other wells are brought in so that overhead costs could be reduced.

The discovery of such high grade oil in this field, however, is considered of prime importance to the producing industry.

FEW ATTEND OPENING

Few people braved the driving snow-storm Tuesday afternoon to visit the oil well. These had to open tightly closed gates, glare, and a glaring sign which read "NO ADMISSION TO WELL" and then run the chance of killing several pigs that were hogging the lane. Then the way led across a field that appeared miles wide to another gate in front of a house where mystery lurked behind the windows.

But beyond was a towering well derrick, with a boarded-up shanty around its base, and a long shed attached to one side, enclosing the pumping machinery and engine. The smell of gas or oil was plainly noticeable within a hundred feet of the well.

The steady puffing of the engine and the resonant pumping in the long pipe can be heard and felt out on the country road. Standing near the pump, it seems that the earth has been drilled miles down.

FRIEND'S OPINION
There were several machines parked around, which meant that there were men near, but they were not to be seen, although an occasional voice could be heard inside the shanty. Finally a door swung out and it was Mr. Friend himself who came out and spoke to the visitors, and asked them to go inside. In answer to their immediate queries about the situation he said that there was oil and the purest oil in the state of Ohio, but that there was not enough to pay to operate the well every day.

WOMEN, MEN OF THIS CITY ARE INVOLVED

Circleville Girl Is Being Sought In Portsmouth As Witness.

Four men were to be arranged in the court of a justice of the peace at Logan on Wednesday afternoon on charges of second degree murder in connection with the death of Earl Behrens, 45, Lancaster, whose body was found beneath a pile of leaves and brush near Brimstone creek in Hocking-co, three miles south of Adelphi, Monday morning.

The men to be arranged on the murder charges are Clayton Huston, of Brimstone creek; Elmer Danner and Albert Bircher, who reside at the Huston home, and William Stewart, Sams creek.

Six others will be held and another is being sought as a material witness, according to Sheriff William Lloyd. Four of these are from Circleville.

VISIT HUSTON HOME

The local quartet associated with the shooting are Lloyd Riggsby, arrested Monday; Sherman Lowry, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Elsie Justice, arrested Monday night; and Annie Rutter, now being sought in Portsmouth where she went Monday.

Other material witnesses are Obid Walton, Louis Whitaker and Reuben Lindsey, all of Lancaster. Mrs. Whitaker was released from custody Tuesday.

According to Hocking-co authorities, the Circleville men and women arrived at the Huston home at 10 p. m. Sunday after. Mrs. Justice had been called out of the Circleville city jail by Lowry following her arrest on a charge of using obscene language after an automobile in which she was riding wrecked the milk wagon of Chauncey Stonerock in this city. When she appeared before Mayor B. T. Hedges at 10 a. m. Monday she was fined $10 and cost.

LOWRY TELLS OF SHOTS

Before he was taken to Logan Tuesday by deputy Sheriff L. H. Hammond, Lowry said that he and his companions stayed at the Huston home until about 1:15 a. m. Monday. When one of the men at the Huston reported that men had passed the cottage, Lowry said he decided to start for home and went out with Huston and Danner to put water in the radiator of his automobile. Another man, identified as Stewart, Lowry said, also left the house and went up the ravine back of the Huston house.

A short time later, Lowry asserts, he heard 20 to 25 shots fired and decided to leave at once. He said he called to Riggsby and the two women and that they immediately departed for Circleville.

The three Lancaster men are said to have been companions of Behrens on an expedition to hijack 30 gallons of liquor, supposed to be hidden in the ravine, and who fled when Behrens was shot. They summoned the Hocking-co authorities who went to the Huston home.

REVOLVERS FOUND

Deputy Sheriff Hammond said he found Mr. and Mrs. Huston in bed, Huston fully clad. Hearing a noise in the back bedroom he went there and found Danner and Bircher, apparently sound asleep. A search of the house uncovered two .32 calibre revolvers, all chambers of which had been recently fired, he said.

No cartridges were found, but a small daughter of Huston said: "Papa put them in the pump for the officers." The well at the house was drained but no cartridges were found. Coroner J. P. Miller, at his autopsy on the body of Behrens, found that he had been killed by a .32 calibre bullet. Hocking-co officers declare that a bloodhound followed a trail from where Behrens body was found to an outhouse on the Huston property and then into the Huston house.

Notice For Veteran Shows Popularity Of Herald and Multitude of 'Millers'

Extensive Work of Local Red Cross Also Revealed By Appeal.

The local chapter of the American Red Cross believes in advertising. It is also converted to the opinion that there are nearly as many Millers as Smiths. This opinion is confirmed by the number of letters received by Miss Agnes Butch, the Home Service secretary, in response to a notice in The Circleville Herald for the address of Robert S. Miller, an ex-service man.

Replies were received from Cincinnati, Dayton, Springfield, Cleveland, Toledo, Ashland, Washington C. H., Ashville, and other towns. The right Robert Miller was located at 116 Blackstone avenue, Washington C. H., having recently moved there from Ashville.

One of the major services conducted by the American Red Cross is that which concerns the war disabled veteran. The strength of the Home Service lies in its interlocking system of chapter cooperation, through which 3000 chapters help each other. It was to fulfill this obligation that Pickaway-co chapter sought Mr. Miller, his evidence being considered necessary to establish the claim of a comrade now living in Urbana, Illinois. The executive secretary of Champaign County chapter, wrote the Home Service secretary to try and locate Miller and through the medium of the newspaper this was accomplished.

Chapters are daily finding veterans who have never filed claims of dependents who have not known their rights resulting from the death of a man in service or thereafter. During the month of January, 54 cases came under the observation of the Home Service secretary. Forty-seven of these were World War cases, four dependents were of Civil War veterans and three cases were of men who were rejected after a short period of service.

Of the 47 cases, one is now a closed, a veteran, Nathan Perkins, of S. Court-st., Circleville, having been granted a compensation. His case had been before the Veterans Bureau 10 years and disallowed time after time. Finally through the persistent efforts of the local chapter Perkins was hospitalized and underwent an operation for a benign goitre. The operation did not bring the hoped for result and the case was again referred to the Veterans Bureau then to the District Board of Appeals—but the opinion was not entitled to a benefit. In sheer desperation the case was carried to the Central Board of Appeals, Chicago, Ill., with the result that all other decisions were reversed.

CASE GOES TO HIGH COURT

J. W. Halterman Asks Review
of Litigation Over Estate
of Son.

An echo of the Halterman murder case, in which Leo Halterman killed his half-brother Charles Halterman and sister-in-law, Caroline Halterman, in Fayette-co, Dec. 23, 1926, was heard in the Ohio supreme court Tuesday when James W. Halterman, father of Leo and Charles, filed a motion to have the supreme court review litigation over the estates of Charles and Caroline Halterman.

The case is based upon whether Charles or Caroline Halterman, his wife, died first. Both died intestate. James W. Halterman contends Charles survived Caroline and therefore her estate should be conveyed to the estate of Charles Halterman, of which U. G. Evans is administrator.

The Fayette County appellate court, in December, 1928, however, found that Charles Halterman died first and ordered Evans to turn over to Meta O. Will, administratrix of the estate of Caroline Halterman, Charles Halterman's estate.

DISCOVER NEW FASTING RULES

Village Resident Finds Water
and Chewing Gum Are Used.

WAPAKONETA, O., Feb. 20.—When is a fast not a fast? That is the question for which the village of New Hampshire, near here, is seeking an answer for today.

The problems came as the result of the admission of Fred Conrad, 27, that while he has not taken nourishment for 37 days, he has been chewing gums and drinking water.

Conrad went on a "fast" here recently, announcing that he would refuse food until his father joined the Methodist Episcopal church and the mills had been driven out of the community.

George Conrad, father of the alleged "faster" blamed the Rev. Ray Dotson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, for his son's religious fanaticism.

Two ministers, representatives of the superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church district, have observed Rev. Dotson of all blame in the case. The ministers were accompanied by Dr. H. C. Bennett, psychiatrist, of Lima, O. Bennett told young Conrad that life could be sustained indefinitely by drinking water and chewing gum.

Conrad is reported to have told the psychiatrist that he intended to conclude his fast soon. This was taken as a sign that Conrad's religious fervor is on the wane and that he will take food next Friday—the fortieth day of the fast.

SMALL DECREASE IN FOOD COST LISTED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The retail cost of food is coming down slowly, a decrease of slightly more than three-fourths of one per cent taking place in January as compared with December, the Department of Labor announced today. There was a decrease of about one-third of 1 per cent in January compared with January a year ago, while there has been an increase of 57 per cent since January, 1913.

Miniature Chicago Beer Feud Produced By Hocking Hooch

Hocking "hooch" has sketched its miniature to the sinister portrait of murder smeared in blood by Chicago beer.

The tragedy of the Hocking-co hills, unearthed with the uncovering from beneath forest leaves and brush of the body of Earl Behrens, Lancaster, on Monday is but a small counterpart of liquor feuds in Chicago, according to Deputy Sheriff L. F. Hammond, of Logan.

As he reconstructs the happenings of Sunday night, the murder of Behrens resulted from an attempt to hijack 30 gallons of illicit whisky cached near Brimstone creek.

The hills that resounded Sunday afternoon to bacchanalian jollity as bottles of white liquor were freely passed, re-echoed late that night to menacing cackle of revolver fire which took the life of Behrens and narrowly missed claiming of three others.

Taking advantage of a celebration in a house on Brimstone creek, four men, leaving a woman and her child in an auto parked by the side of the road, slipped past the four room cottage and entered a ravine which opened behind it.

Goging along one of the four paths which they believed led to a liquor cache at the head of the ravine, the four stopped to examine a coil from a still found beside the trail they were eagerly following.

They were unaware that along another path vengeance was creeping. Suddenly the silence and white peace of the moonlight night were shattered and distorted by the rattle and blaze of revolver shots.

Behrens, stooping over to replace on the ground the coil he had been examining, gasped as a bullet struck his left side, ploughed through the top of his heart and lodged in his right side near his back. He took two staggering steps, stumbled, fell, rolled over on his back and was still.

Bullets whistled about his three companions who fled panic-stricken to their auto and who, after an anxious wait and unlike the Chicagoans, called upon the law which they had planned to flout.

Back in the ravine where the volley of bullets had come from three hidden slayers or from a running two gun killer, pale death crouched over its prey in the wan moonlight.

From the shadows in the ravine, as tell-tale marks showed in the revealing light of day, came three men, who picked up the corpse of Behrens and carried it a quarter of a mile over a hill and down a slope to another resting place by a fence in the heart of a thick- et. After depositing their gruesome burden, the three men covered it with leaves and brush. Then they retraced their steps and disappeared over the hill.

The finishing touches of this hooch drawn picture will be placed as the Hocking-co authorities balance motives and facts, human beings and evidence, in the scales of justice on which 12 persons, four of whom are from Circleville, have been placed.

Evidently all had been discussed about the results of the drilling for the few men gathered around had nothing more to say. The well had been shot on Monday with 220 quarts of nitro-glycerin at a depth of more than 2300 feet. Then 24 hours were allowed to pass for the oil to gather, before it was pumped out. This was done and although the quality of the oil was the best, the authorities claim that there is not sufficient quantity to merit pumping each day. There is some possibility that another well will be driven in another location.

TEN YEARS SEARCH FOR EFFECTIVE MEDICINE ENDED BY SPINAGO

New Spinach Tonic Ends Suffering For William Morris After All Others Failed.

"Ten years is a long time and suffering makes it seem longer," said Mr. William Morris, Circleville resident, 118 W. Water St., when he came in to buy his third bottle of Spinago at the Mykantz Store, 107 N. Court St., Circleville headquarters for this wonderful new tonic which contains Spinach. All this time Mr. Morris had been taking various medicines recommended by drug stores and doctors with no relief but it didn't take long for Spinago to show him the way to glorious health once he heard of the wonders it had worked for others. Mr. Morris went on to say:

"For about ten years I had been suffering from constipation and stomach trouble. During this whole time I tried 'one medicine after another' but nothing helped. I was in a terrible condition. I was discouraged after having tried so many different medicines. It was such a long period of suffering. I had heard of Spinago and what wonderful results other people had derived from it. One bottle of Spinago did wonders for me. The second bottle did what all other medicines which I tried for ten years failed to do. It cured me. For the first time in ten years I now enjoy good health. My stomach trouble is gone. I have a good healthy appetite and enjoy my meals. My bowels are in good shape and my general condition is fine. I have Spinago to thank for this change in me. It is a truly wonderful medicine. I have now started my son on Spinago and am sure that he will get the same results I have. If other sufferers from stomach trouble and indigestion will take my advice and try Spinago, I am sure that they will be 'thankful for my recommendation'."

And the secret of Spinago's success is very simple. It is due to the fact that it has been prepared after years of research according to a practical formula. Who doesn't know how valuable a food spinach is? What doctor will deny the fact that Spinach is of great benefit in putting unruly stomachs in order; that it aids in elimination of waste material from the system; that it is very valuable in enriching and purifying the blood? All these are accepted facts and it is also well known that a great many ailments such as stomach pains, dyspepsia, gas, belching, that tired and worn-out feeling, biliousness, liver complaints, rheumatism, neuritis and others come from poor digestion and elimination and from anemic or sluggish blood. Spinago takes away the causes of these complaints due greatly to the fact that it contains Spinach. Not green spinach, as you see it on the dinner table, but dry, powdered, concentrated Spinach from which all the moisture has been driven, an ounce of which contains all the beneficial elements which are contained in several pounds of green Spinach.

Besides this important basic ingredient Spinago is compounded from carefully selected and blended roots, herbs and barks among which are Cascara, Sarsaparilla, Mandrake, Dandelion, Prickly Ash, Poke Root, Gentian, Licorice, Burdock, and Wild Cherry are scientifically compounded with other valuable ingredients of recognized medical value under a process and in proportion known only to the manufacturer, and above all, this preparation has been so compounded as to make it extremely palatable and pleasant to take.

Spinago is on sale at the Mykantz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court St., Circleville headquarters for this wonderful new tonic, where many Circleville residents call every day to praise its good work.

Early Railroader Had Many Brilliant Ideas

At Albany, N. Y., August 1, 1891, the first scheduled passenger train to be operated on American soil pulled away from the makeshift depot with its 15 passengers. At the throttle was David Matthews, an ingenious Scotsman, destined to become the father of railroad improvements. Matthews was proud of the cab that sheltered him, for it was the first one used and he had devised it. Previous to that, engineers and firemen had labored exposed to the elements. On a subsequent trip a herd of cattle blocked the way and Matthews at once invented what he called a "cow catcher." It was constructed, however, to push the cattle aside rather than to catch them. In 1833 he made the first railway snow-plow and included a device to melt the snow and pour the water into a tank supplying the boiler. Among his many other inventions were two types of handcars (the first ones), the method of forcing wheels onto axles by press and a device for pouring sand under the locomotive wheels to prevent slipping.

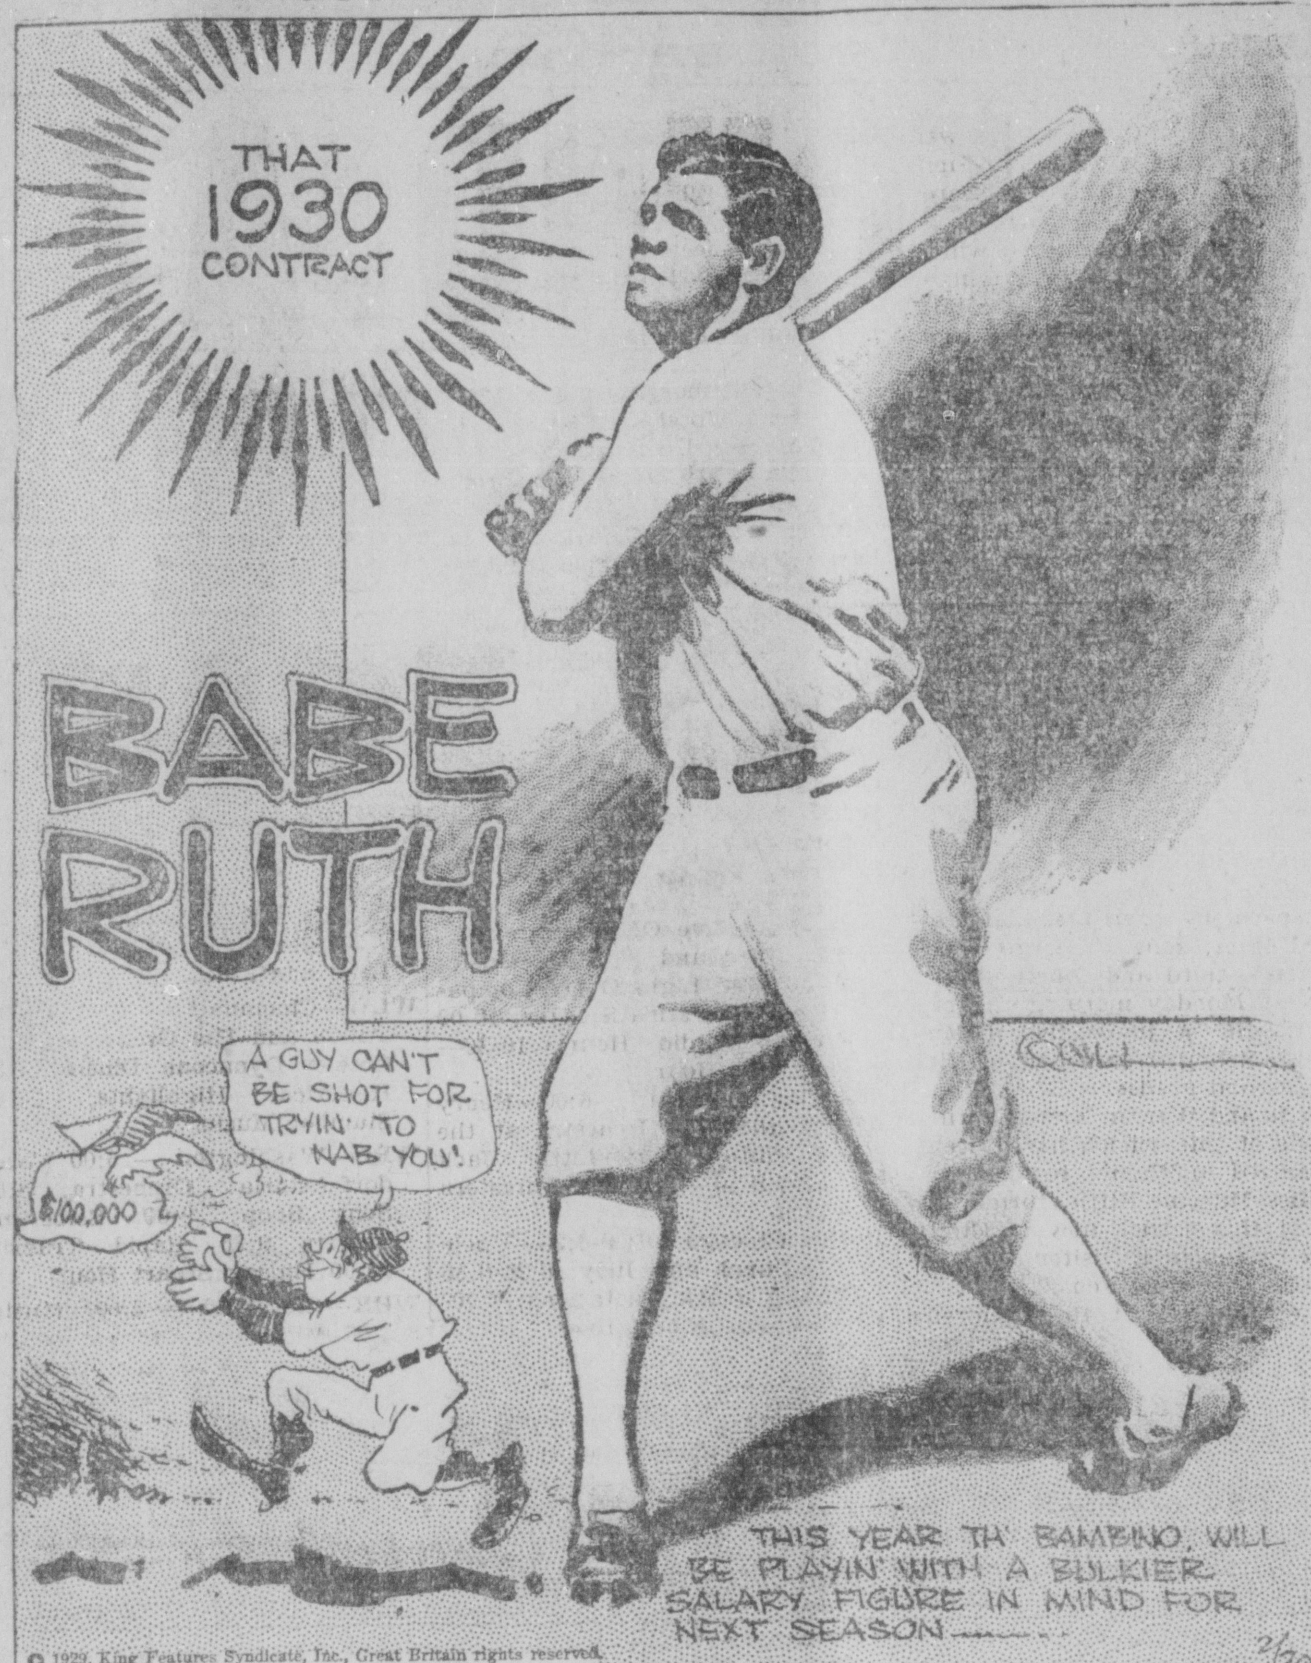

Matthews died in San Francisco in 1891 at the age of seventy-nine. —Detroit News.

Picture Depicts the First Forms of Life

Scientists generally agree that the first forms of life originated in water and an effort to illustrate this has been made in an oil painting by Charles F. Knight of New York, which has been placed in the hall of historical geology of the Field Museum of Natural History. The painting is a present by the artist to the institution. The artist gave a great deal of time to scientific investigation before making the painting. In it he has portrayed these earliest known forms of life as appearing in a group of pools. Within the waters of these pools algae of a blue-green hue are shown in such quantities as to tint the liquid with their colors. They also have built up a series of stony basins. In other pools cushion-shaped forms of pink algae are shown. Other portions of the deposits are seen to be tinged brown or orange by algae of the colors. The adjoining rocks are represented as being bare and naked, no other life being in existence at this time. The rocks are mostly of black lava, but some areas of a reddish color are shown to indicate the great iron-bearing deposits which were also formed at this time.

Tyndale's Great Work William Tyndale, while translating into English the New Testament and the Pentateuch, found publication impossible in England, owing to the opposition. According to the story, he went to Germany in 1524, and after visiting Luther at Wittenberg, settled with his amanuensis in Cologne where the printing of his work was being undertaken. He was forced to leave there, however, and take refuge at Worms.

OUT AFTER ANOTHER RECORD

THREE THINGS WHICH WILL LENGTHEN LIFE

Deep Breathing, Common Sense Eating and Enough Exercise Are Bound to Improve Health and Extend Your Stay on Earth, Says Dr. Copeland.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

What do you look upon as the fundamentals of good health? Before you read further, shut your eyes and make up your mind what these fundamentals are. Suppose you write and give me your conclusions.

Not long ago I read a book about health. The author named what he regards as the fundamentals. He expressed his view that these are three:

Fresh air.
Rational diet.
Wholesome exercise.

To have a really healthy body, an efficient body, a disease resisting body, all three of these fundamental things must be found. Not one of them can be omitted. You just can't leave off one of them.

To have good health there must be abundance of fresh air. The diet must be well chosen and eaten properly. You cannot neglect exercise. A full diet without sufficient exercise is followed steadily by increase of weight. Likewise, extra pounds are taken on if too much of the wrong food is taken. Overeating is one of the most serious of human vices.

It often says that I cannot see why so many high-minded persons get so excited over intemperance in drink and are so silent about intemperance in eating. It is the cause of many of the diseases of the middle and advanced life. Perhaps I may say the chief cause of the preventable diseases.

The trouble with most of us is that we neglect our bodies. Some how we appear to value the car we own more than we do our own health. It is certainly true that we give more attention to the automobile than we do to our bodies. We look the car over every day. It may be only once a month we give a thought to the machinery of the body.

Before you can get a license to run an automobile, you must be examined by the public authorities. Yet you are permitted to run the most precious machine in the world even though you are ignorant of, or wickedly indifferent to its make-up or needs.

Funny, isn't it?

If we did use, in caring for the machinery of our bodies, one-half the good sense we apply to the care of the automobile, the mortality rate would be reduced at once. The span of life would be increased.

I wish I could impress upon you how essential it is to your welfare that you should determine what are the fundamentals of health. Then, having determined what they are, set out with the firm and steadfast purpose of applying your knowledge to the improvement of your health and the extension of your stay on earth.

Solar System's Movement

The solar system is traveling at the rate of about 1,000,000 miles a day in the general direction of the constellation Hercules, or, more exactly, the boundary between Hercules and Lyra. The stars in these constellations are not all at the same distance from the solar system, and no fixed point can be set at which the sun will arrive at a specified time. Observations have not been continued over a long enough period to determine whether the sun is moving through space in a straight line or along a curved line.

Keep youth longer!

cleanse the system of poisons

Two of the great enemies to youth and vitality are delayed elimination and intestinal poisons. To keep yourself free from both these common difficulties will help you to stay young.

With the use of Nujol you can do it too. For Nujol absorbs body poisons and carries them off, preventing their absorption by the body. Nujol also softens the waste matter and brings about normal evacuation. It is harmless; contains no drugs or medicine. It won't cause gas or griping pains, or affect the stomach or kidneys. Every corner druggist has Nujol. Make sure you get the genuine. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay, get Nujol today.

Metropolis Lacks Native Leaders In Sport Fields; Congestion Blamed

By David J. Walsan
NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—It strikes me, as the fellow said when he blocked the boxing glove with his nasal organ, that the City of New York has claimed about every distinction there is, except the one to which it is most richly entitled: It leads the world in the development of athletic non-combatants, not to forget non-competents. It is the father and mother of the man who asks no other privilege of life than to be allowed to take his seat and shout a good fight from the third floor balcony. It is the happy hunting ground of the instinctive witness.

The fighting strength of a country, when everything else is equal, usually is rated on its man power. That being so, New York should muster the finest athletic army in the land and it probably has the worst, reckoning the matter on a comparative basis. It has the best of equipment, among the finest of stadiums and the smartest of managers and coaches. And about all it has to show for it is—crowds.

ARE GOOD WITNESSES

Yes, it will fill more seats—for anything or nothing—than any given community. It can't perform but as a watcher, it can give a performance that is downright sensational. Living in the midst of athletic safety, something in the nature of a competitive three-ring circus running the clock around, its only reaction apparently is to go to the box office, and ask for two on the aisle, so that it can see for itself just how good that guy from Council Bluffs may be.

The answer? With the average community, it might be insufficient population; with New York, it is too much.

The town never learned to play because it never had the opportunity. The major leagues, I think have five native New Yorkers on their lists—Lou Gehrig, Frank Frisch, Waite Hoyt, Fresco, Thompson and Harry Ricca—and this showing might be worse, considering the facts that it is doubtful whether the island of Manhattan numbers five adequate baseball diamonds. Frisch and Gehrig came from New York colleges, which had exclusive fields; Thompson and Hoyt were local schoolboys. The semi-pro outfits supplied only Ricca and, as a baseball star, he happens to be quite a basketball player. George Toporcer also came from the local lots, although I am slightly doubtful about whether that locality should be designated in the plural. Anyhow, he never was a regular and is now back on small time.

Vincent Richards and Frank

Hunter are notable examples of what New Yorkers can do with a tennis racquet, just as Benny Leonard and Gene Tunney may be hailed with pride for their achievements in the ring. There can be no good debate about the merits of this quartet; the only argument centres around the fact that their number is four instead of forty. New York is pock-marked with tennis courts and boxing gymnasiums and its vast population should produce many a champion in both sports.

Golf is another matter. So is football. Few high schools have their own fields for football and usually they work out on overgrown back lots. The man who wishes to play golf either must consign his day to it, in order to reach one of the suburban courses, or resign himself to playing a few holes on congested public links are darkness overtakes him. Either way, the odds are against him getting any given place. Many of New York's stars are imported or they develop here only after the ground work of their play has been laid elsewhere, as in the case of Jesse Sweetser.

As for football it may be well to remember that New York University couldn't win until it began getting players from other cities.

Yiddish Made Up of Variety of Tongues

Yiddish is a middle German dialect derived from Hebrew and Slavic influences. It is the language spoken by the Jews in eastern Europe, the most widely spread dialect of the Jews. Those Jews who, toward the end of the Middle Ages, left Germany for the Slavic lands (Bohemia, Poland, Galicia and Lithuania) spoke the middle high German of their places of origin and up to the sixteenth century wrote it quite correctly, although they employed the Hebrew alphabet. The absence of active interchange with Germany, however, led in time to a process of simplification of morphology and syntax. Thus the imperfect, subjunctive, and to a large extent the neuter gender, were lost; all the prepositions came to be constructed with the dative, etc. At the same time the German sounds underwent certain changes, and a large number of Hebrew, Arabic and Slavic words were incorporated in the language. The resultant idiom, the Yiddish, supplanted the Slavic spoken by the primitive Jewish settlers in the east of Europe, and has been carried to all parts of the world, including Germany, admitting words and idioms from all the languages with which it has come into contact.

"KONJOLA PROVED VERY MEDICINE I ALWAYS NEEDED"

"No Words Are Strong Enough To Express My Praise," Says Lady New Well Again.

MRS. CECILIA COSTELLO.

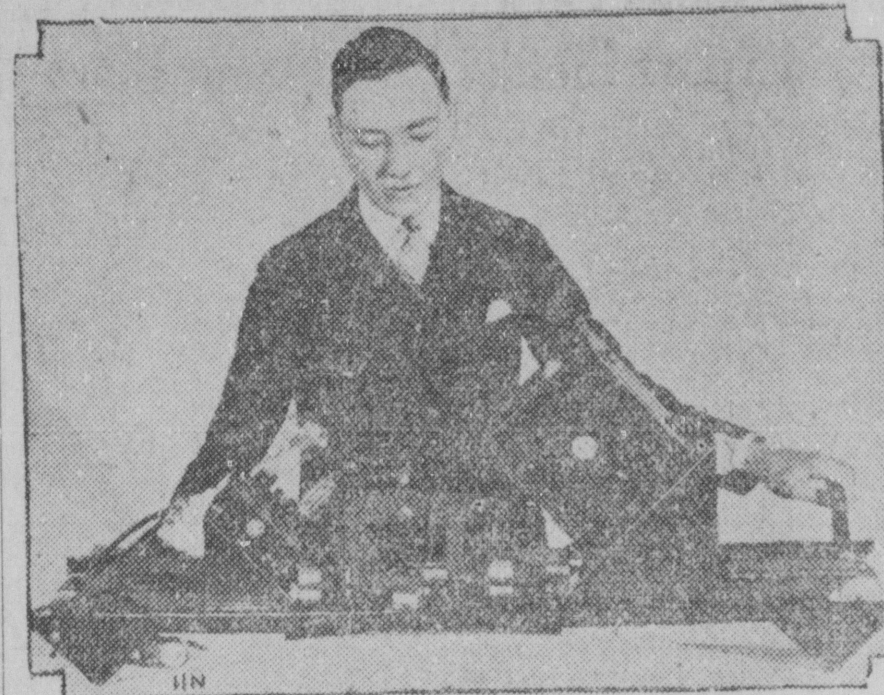

"No words are strong enough to express my praise of Konjola, for this splendid medicine relieved me of years of a complication of ailments that had made life miserable," said Mrs. Cecelia Costello, 1095 G. Street, Lorain, Ohio.

"Two years ago I suffered a nervous breakdown, the result of stomach and kidney troubles, a sluggish liver and inactive bowels. I grew steadily worse, losing in weight and strength. I was a bundle of nerves. Every day came headaches; my back ached all the time and my sleep was broken by night risings. I had just about abandoned hope of ever seeing another well day.

"While in this deplorable condition I started on Konjola. I had not been taking it a week when I knew my search for health was ended. Day by day my stomach and kidneys became better, constipation was relieved almost immediately and within three weeks I was a well and happy woman. No more headaches, no backaches, no sleepless nights, calm nerves and an appetite. Konjola was the medicine I should have had in the first place."

Konjola is sold in Circleville, O., at Mykrantz Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Electric Eye New Device Never Misses a Trick

John V. Breisky Demonstrates the "Electric Eye" Which Counts, Puts Out Fires and Does Many Remarkable Stunts with Superhuman Intelligence

Newly Discovered Cell Protects Property Against Fire

NEW YORK.—So-called "Electric Eyes" counted the guests last night at the annual dinner of the American Institute of the City of New York, guarded the guests and the Town Hall, at which the dinner was given, from fire and entertained all present with tricks which demonstrated almost human intelligence and superhuman accuracy.

The "Stunts" are based on the reaction of the photo-electric cell to light. The functioning of an automatic fire extinguishing device was witnessed and proclaimed most remarkable of the demonstration. A match was tossed into a glass tank containing gasoline and kerosene. The first cloud of smoke from the tank instantly operated the photo-electric smoke detector which, in turn, automatically released carbon dioxide from a cylinder and extinguished the fire before the audience could realize what had happened.

The demonstration showed the use of the cell for sorting and counting material. A spot of light was made to fall on the surface under examination and reflected from the surface to the apparatus. Small packages were automatically moved past the light, and counted automatically by the "Eye."

For a soapy, sudsy bath—use Melo

Like to have plenty of suds when you're bathing? Then don't bathe in hard water—city water as it comes from the faucet. Soap combines with the hard water, and forms a dirty ring around the edge of the tub. That's scum. And that's certainly not pleasant.

Hard water can be made soft. Just put Melo in the water and you have a very remarkable cleaner, with or without soap. Then watch the soap lather! Then watch the suds come! Then watch the scum go! Have you discovered how much more effective Melo makes soap? Get three cans today at your grocer's, for the kitchen, the laundry and the bathroom.

Ginseng in Commerce
Nearly all ginseng grown in this country is shipped to China for medicinal use. The industry depends entirely on the Oriental market. Ginseng is consumed in negligible quantities by the Chinese in this country, and the plant has practically no value in the United States or in other countries outside of China.

INSTEAD of exercise

on court or links, try the little exerciser in the vest-pocket box for a dime!

Physicians say Cascarets give your bowels as much real exercise as you get from an hour of hard play! They are made from Cascara Sagrada, which stimulates the peristaltic action and exercises the bowel muscles. Oils, salts and ordinary laxatives don't act like Cascarets. These things only produce mechanical or chemical action, which really weakens the bowels.

Every time you take Cascarets your bowels become stronger. That's the reason they give lasting relief from constipation, biliousness, headaches, indigestion, bloating, etc. That's why 20 million boxes are used a year!

Fuel system of the new Ford has been designed for reliability and long service

THE practical value of Ford simplicity of design is especially apparent in the fuel system.

The gasoline tank is built integral with the cowl and is unusually sturdy because it is made of heavy sheet steel, terne plated to prevent rust or corrosion. An additional factor of strength is the fact that it is composed of only two pieces, instead of three or four, and is electrically welded—not soldered.

Because of the location of the tank, the entire flow of gasoline is an even, natural flow—following the natural law of gravity. This is the simplest and most direct way of supplying gasoline to the carburetor without variations in pressure. The gasoline feed pipe of the new Ford is only 18 inches long and is easily accessible all the way.

The gasoline passes from the tank to the carburetor through a filter or sediment bulb mounted on the steel dash which separates the gasoline tank from the engine.

The carburetor is specially designed and has been built to deliver many thousands of miles of good service. Since all adjustments are fixed except the needle valve and idler, there is practically nothing to get out of order.

The choke rod on the dash acts as a primer and also as a regulator of your gasoline mixture. The new hot-spot manifold insures complete vaporization of the gasoline before it enters the combustion chamber of the engine.

As a matter of fact, the fuel system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little service attention.

The filter or sediment bulb should be cleaned at regular intervals and the carburetor screen removed and washed in gasoline. Occasionally the drain plug at the bottom of the carburetor should be removed and the carburetor drained for a few seconds.

Have your Ford dealer look after these little details for you when you have the car oiled and greased. A periodic checking-up costs little, but it has a great deal to do with long life and continuously good performance.

"KONJOLA PROVED VERY MEDICINE I ALWAYS NEEDED"

"No Words Are Strong Enough To Express My Praise," Says Lady Now Well Again.

MRS. CECILIA COSTELLO.

"No words are strong enough to express my praise of Konjola. For a splendid medicine relieved me of years of a complication of ailments that had made life miserable," said Mrs. Cecelia Costello, 1095 G. Street, Lorain, Ohio.

"Two years ago I suffered a nervous breakdown, the result of stomach and kidney troubles, a sluggish liver and inactive bowels. I grew steadily worse, losing in weight and strength. I was a bundle of nerves. Every day came headaches, my back ached all the time and my sleep was broken by night nursing. I had just about abandoned hope of ever seeing another well day.

"While in this deplorable condition I started on Konjola. I had not been taking it a week when I knew my search for health was ended. Day by day my stomach and kidneys became better, constipation was relieved almost immediately and within three weeks I was a well and happy woman. No more headaches, no backaches, no sleepless nights, calm nerves and an appetite. Konjola was the medicine I should have had in the first place."

Konjola is sold in Circleville, O., at Mykranitz Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

A SENATOR'S ESTATE

Oscar Underwood, the late senator from Alabama, left an estate of approximately $50,000 when he died recently, letters of administration filed at Birmingham, Ala., revealed.

Once again it is proved that the size of a man's estate bears no relation whatever to the extent of his services to the public. Senator Underwood, for many years, was one of the south's most valuable citizens. Not only his own state—indeed, not only the south as a whole—but the entire nation is better for his having lived and worked.

Yet he leaves an estate of only $50,000—a large sum, to be sure, for the average man, but nothing like what a man of Senator Underwood's talents could have acquired if he had worked for himself and not for the nation.

Some of our public servants, to be sure, are grossly overpaid. But the good ones get far less than they deserve.

MR. EINSTEIN, SUCH WORDS!

The full translation of Einstein's famous new theory has now appeared on this side of the Atlantic—but, unless you're a specialist in mathematics, don't rush to the nearest book store to buy a copy. You'd be disappointed.

Here is a brief excerpt from the new theory:

"The v-components of the s-th leg of the n-leg will accordingly be labeled as subscript s raised to the power v, while the appertaining fixed lower determinants will be labeled as superscript s h subscript v."

"The local n-legs are all placed 'parallel' and equal vectors are such as have—with reference to their local n-leg—equal co-ordinates."

"That's a sample. Unless you can assimilate things like that, don't bother to buy the book."

Quakers in World War

The selective service law in vogue during the World war provided exemption to "a member of a well recognized religious sect or organization, organized and existing on May 18, 1917, whose then existing creed or principles forbid its members to participate in war in any form and whose religious convictions are against war or participation therein." This selective service law applied to Quakers as well as many other religious sects. However, there were a number of Quakers who served in our active fighting forces.

Eat and Save

By RING LARDNER

To the Editor:

These days most everybody are preaching economy in living and etc., but the great majority don't know how to go about it to lay something aside for a rainy day, of which God knows we have had enough of them on Long's Island this spring but anyway, I run across a married couple of man and wife the other day that has got 3 children all under 10 yrs. of age and the man showed me where he had solved the high cost problem and was saving enough weekly so as in a few yrs. he can quit work and not half to worry as they will be enough in the bank to insure he and his family vs. want in their old age.

This man is a plasterer by trade and only makes $250 per week, as the Union don't allow him to work Monday, Wednesday, Friday and holidays and only 1/2 day Saturdays. A. M. Well, I night this man and the old lady, as he called his wife, set down and had a serious talk and begin to figure things out and found they were only laying $190. per week to 1 side and spending all the rest of it. In a few yrs. at that rate they would be living on the bounty of the country.

So this bird said to his wife, "We have got to economize somewhere or ruin is staring us in the face as all I can skip up in my profession is $250 per week and we ain't saving only $190. of it, and we are living in the lap of luxury suppose something happens to me so I couldn't plaster no more, where would you and the kiddies be at? So I propose that we start and run the house on the budget system."

So the Mrs. who had never seen the inside of a college asked him what was the budget system.

"Well," he says, "the word budget comes from 2 Lithuanian words, budg and et and it means I will give you $100.00 to buy the food and clothes and pay the rent and washing and services and etc., and you will take the other $250. and stick it in the old savings bank every week and in a few yrs. we can give the world the laugh even if I can't plaster or get plastered no more."

So his Mrs. was tickled to death and said "let's try it."

(Well, she set down with a paper and pencil and figured. Finding it a typical expense account that she must get for $10.00.)

MONDAY BREAKFAST: Anchovies, ripe olives, celery, clam chowder, brood fish, ham and eggs, liver and bacon lettuce and tomato, and Coney Island dressing honey dew a la mode, coffee and cigars and cognac. MONDAY LUNCHEON: Italian cocktail terrapin, Rhode Island Red, port, snail, and oysters, Russian kumpan, SPANISH Omelette, Oyster Martha, lobster, chicken liver, O'Brien's potatoes, root, pudding, coffee and cigars, creme de menthe. Total expenses, $125.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday they were all too sick to eat anything.

FRIDAY BREAKFAST: Butter, fish, weakfish, shrod, haddock, eggs, ham, and coffee. FRIDAY LUNCHEON: Brood trout, perch, white fish, catfish, dogfish, whale, coffee and cigars, sherry. FRIDAY DINNER: Oysters, clams, crawfish, smelts, redhuts, shrimp, blue gills, hook, line and sinkers, coffee and cigars. Total expenses, $125.

SATURDAY BREAKFAST: Talcum powder, porthouse, smothered onions, Long's Island prairie dogs, snipe, quail, pheasant, Watertown goose, bacon and eggs, soup and fish. SATURDAY LUNCHEON: Robins, thrush, larks, bobolink, parrots, canaries, owl eyes, coffee and cigars. SATURDAY DINNER: Sherry and egg. Total expenses, $125.

SUNDAY BREAKFAST: Ice cream, vaseline, cigars and coffee. SUNDAY DINNER: Crackerjack, peanut, pop corn, caramels, milk chocolate, elevator gum, canines, coffee and cigars. SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPER: Belgian police dogs, Pomeranians, Yorkshire terriers, dachshunds, Boston terriers, hounds, greyhounds, wolf hounds, Alredales, setters, pointers, water and cigars, cognac. Total expenses, $125.

This left Mrs. Plasterer with $50.00 bucks per week to throw away on her and the kids as the husband could get along O. K. on his plasterer's uniform, so she decided for the best way to do would be to let the kids run around bare and that left her with $100.00 per week to buy shoes, or 1 pair a week, and still leave her $100.00 to stick in the savings bank.

As for the clothes outside of the shoes and etc., my friend the plasterer's wife saved enough shells from the seaford to keep her children in shell glasses as they was all near sighted, and she saved enough bones of the fish to keep herself in corns, and she saved enough fur off the dogs to make herself a coat and enough feathers off the birds to keep her in hats and enough leaves off the lettuce and anchovies to make her dresses, and all in all it will take a whole lot of tough luck for his family to find themselves in the realms of poverty, and I give the details to your readers in the hopes that they profit by it, as all persons needs to bear the cost of living is a budget system and a thrifty wife.

The Reason

A clergyman was congratulating himself on a convert from a rival place of worship.

"Why," he asked the good lady "have you decided to forsake your chapel for my church? Is it that you find my sermons of greater comfort to you?"

"No," was the reply. "It's not exactly that. The fact is they have hauled the pathway up to the chapel, and I find it that in comfortable for the feet that I had to change."—Weekly Scotsman.

YES, SIR, THAT'S MY BABY

Impatient Griselda

by Dorothy Scarborough

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

IRENE ROBELINE, in love with handsome Guinn Holden, the young Texas town minister, is bitterly disappointed when he marries Lilith, a beautiful blonde, who had boasted that she would force him to propose to her. A year later Lilith dies during childbirth. Irene then marries Holden, believing he could be made to forget the past and make her happy with his love. Before this event she had rejected Will Lundy, the town doctor, in love with her. With Will she organized a meeting to uphold the pastor when the deacons of the church tried to expel a member for drunkenness. After marriage Irene devoted her whole life to Guinn's comfort and success. With Lilith, the baby, she found a more difficult problem as her father had thoroughly spoiled her. In her she constantly saw the picture of his dead wife—the same golden hair, blue eyes and soft pink skin. Irene knew that Muriel Amson, the town gossip, was aware of Holden's spiritual loyalty to the dead Lilith. When Irene's child was born she believed Guinn's love would be fully hers. Instead he entered the room with Lilith in his arms "to see Lilith's little sister."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XIX.

IRENE was pulling up weeds in her garden one morning in early June. It had become a custom with her that whenever anything troubled or annoyed or hurt her, or when she had a vexing problem to face, she would escape to her flower beds and work furiously. As a consequence, in the eighteen years of her married life she had become an expert gardener. Being married to a widower with a long memory for his first wife and stepmother to a rancorousness of her rival had encouraged horticulture. Alone among her flowers she could release all her inhibitions, indulge in an orgy of silent emotion and return to her difficulties with a freshened mind. She had to be a frank pagan now and then, else she wouldn't have gone on being the preacher's wife.

The problem that she was up against now was an old one, but it had reappeared with new force: How to get on with Lilith and yet keep her from railing the household.

Lilith had just been graduated from Baylor University, where she and Justine had been together for two years. What would she want now?

The girl's return from college, a woman grown and ready for something different, made Irene look before and after, at the years behind as well as the future. The double lock gave her a sort of terror of what she glimpsed. Looking at eighteen years of marriage all at once seemed her. She had let herself see only a little at a time before; it had been easier to look before and after, at the years behind as well as the future. Hoyt's Compound Made Her Happy With "New Health"

THIS LADY SUFFERED TWO YEARS WITH RHEUMATISM AND NEURITIS. NOW ABLE TO WASH AND IRON.

Mrs. Nancy Shasteen 321 Park-st, Chillicothe, is another widely known resident of this vicinity who is praising Hoyt's Compound which is the great mixture of Nature's medical juices now being induced to crowds daily here in Circleville by the Hoyt man in person at Wilder's Drug Store, Chillicothe.

"Was held in the terrible grip of rheumatism and neuritis for over two years," said Mrs. Shasteen. "I suffered untold pain and finally became extremely nervous and irritable. I was seldom able to sit down and eat a square meal as it seemed that everything I ate would sour on my stomach and cause gas to form. My bowels were very irregular and I had to continually take something for this trouble. Even then the relief was only for a day or so. I was very restless when I went to bed at night and would roll and toss for hours before going to sleep. Finally my condition became so grave that I couldn't even wash or iron my clothes. Finally I began reading where several of my friends had endorsed Hoyt's Compound. At first I was skeptical then when I continued to see local people's endorsement day after day I knew that it must have exceptional merit. I began taking Hoyt's at once and the first bottle game me relief. I continued the treatment and now my troubles have been completely mastered by this great medicine. I don't suffer any more pains at all. My stomach is in wonderful shape, bowels are regular and I now sleep sound all through the night. I am now able to do my washing and ironing with ease. I want everyone to know how Hoyt's drove the rheumatism and neuritis out of my body. And for that reason I am giving this endorsement for Hoyt's. I will be only too glad to verify this statement at any time."

The Hoyt man is in person at Wilder's Pharmacy, Chillicothe, every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday explaining and introducing the great Hoyt's Compound. Go in and have a talk with him.

Jersey Scene of Lindy's Marriage?

The marriage of Colonel Charles Lindbergh and Miss Anne Morrow, inset, probably will take place at Englewood, N. J., but it was made plain by Mrs. Morrow that the time and place had not been decided and that it was entirely up to the engaged pair. The picture above shows the new home, top, of Ambassador Morrow's family at Englewood and below is their old home in which Anne was born.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

The W. C. T. U. held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Aldenderfer Friday, Feb. 15.

The topic for this month was "The Willard Memorial Meeting."

The meeting was opened by singing "This is My Father's World." The Scrip, Psalm 45, was read by the president, followed by prayer by Mrs. Aldenderfer.

The song "Carry On" was then sung and the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary. The following letters were then read: "Our Progress and Seer" by Mary Porter, "Frances Willard's Message to the Future" by Hazel Ketterman. Her message to us is "American womanhood holds the key to the victory." In the "Sweet Remembrance" Frances Willard lives and labors with us today. We shall never go from our hearts. We believe she rejoices at us as we are carrying on to help the world wider for women and more home-like for humanity.

Frances Willard and the Children. Mrs. Aldenderfer could speak of the memorial she would like to see. It would be best to be one that would be to safeguard little children. "Answering the Call," Jennie Spangler. "By providing for the needs of her work in her name we are building her a monument more lasting than bronze." Memorial to Frances Willard in 1927, Worthie Anderson.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Clark. The first of the ties that bind, and the benediction. During the social hour the hostesses served refreshments. The next meeting will be March 8, at the home of Jennie Spangler. All members are urged to be present.

O. E. S. CARD PARTY

Prized by guests. The home of Mrs. Walker Baughman on S. Scioto-st was thrown open Tuesday night to about 120 members and friends of the Local Order of Eastern Star, who attended the social group card party of that organization. The fact that it was held in a private home, seemed to lend an atmosphere of friendliness and hospitality.

The spacious rooms of the Baughman residence were filled with the card tables at which the parties of players assembled as soon as they arrived.

Bridge and five hundred were the games played. The committee had carefully planned for the recording of the high scores, and for the awarding of prizes to the guests. As the card games had come to a close, the pleasure of the evening was augmented by the serving of refreshments.

When the time had come for the distributing of the prizes, Mrs. Frank Marion won the high prize for bridge, Miss Ethel Rife, 2nd, Mrs. Harold Grant 3rd, Mrs. Arthur Wiegand 4th and Mrs. T. F. Jeffries 5th. Three men's prizes were also awarded. These were Dr. G. D. Phillips, 1st, Dwight Steele, 2nd, and Sterling Lamb 3rd. Off the Target: It was a very hot day in the film colony, and the instructor had just about had enough of it.

There was the more than to fire, and glancing his eyes this individual had lost off his ten rounds in less than a minute.

"Have I lost a bullet?" he asked when he had finished.

The instructor, who had just pushed his glasses, growled.

"Oh, yes," he retorted, "you got about all right, but I expect you will have to buy a lot of it. It's done up on the next head—London, England."
